First Aid for Minor Wounds

0

Due to the nature of the work, the movers are bound to suffer minor wounds, such as cuts, abrasions, and punctures. Have you ever: Scuffed your knuckles in a doorway while moving a couch? Suffered a puncture wound from a staple, tack or splinter when loading an antique china cabinet? What about banging your shin against the walk board or truck bumper? All these incidents will likely result in a minor wound of some sort.

First aid tips:

1. Try to control and/or stop the bleeding by applying light pressure to the wound. Use the gauze located in your first aid kit.

- 2. Clean the wound with water (warm soapy water if available). Try to wash away any dirt or debris from the wound.
- 3. Apply antibiotic ointment and a clean, dry bandage.
- 4. Monitor the wound for infection; redness, swelling, drainage, etc. If any of these symptoms occur, seek medical attention.
- 5. Report the injury immediately to your supervisor.

Your Basic First Aid Kit should include:

- Plasters, in a variety of different sizes and shapes
- Small, medium and large sterile gauze dressings
- At least two sterile eye dressings
- Triangular bandages
- Crêpe rolled bandages
- Safety pins
- Disposable sterile gloves
- Tweezers
- Scissors
- Alcohol-free cleansing wipes
- Sticky tape
- Skin rash cream such as hydrocortisone or calendula
- Antiseptic cream
- Painkillers such as paracetamol, aspirin, or ibuprofen
- Antihistamine tablets
- Distilled water, for cleaning wounds and as an eye bath

Questions:

- 1. True or False: Signs of infection can be ignored if you washed the wound with warm soapy water.
- 2. In case of a minor cut or abrasion you should try to control and/or stop the bleeding by applying to the wound.
